COAL SETTLEMENT AFFECTS PRICES

Prices in Wall Street Open With an Upward Rush.

London Buys Actively American Securities as a Result of the Settlement of the Coal

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The formal announcement that the coal miners representatives had agreed to submit their difficulties with the coal operators to the board of arbitration appointed by President Roosevelt removed any lingering doubts that existed in Wall Street as to a possible hitch in the efforts to bring about a satisfactory solution of the mater. With the removal of this long-deterent factor as a market influence, speculators began to figure on the beneficial effects on general business that would follow the resumption of active mining operations. News from the anthractic region, indicating that the miners were in jubilant spirits over the prespect of speedily returning to work, was greeted with great satisfaction, as was the statement that the mine operators were making preparations to resume work on a large scale.

ment that the mine operators were making preparations to resume work on a large scale.

Advices from abroad that the situation was viewed there with great cheerfulness intensified the optimistic feeling and caused heavy buying of the general market ondon showed its satisfaction over the outcome by creating a strong, active market for American securities there, and supplemented with some large buying orders here. Prices opened with a rush upward, and huge blocks of stocks were bought at rising prices. The opening from the Coalers was wide, and there were 6,000 shares of Pennsylvania purchased on a fractional spread initial gains were well over a point throughout the active list, and after a temporary set-back the rise was renewed with visor and advances of 2 and even 3 points became numerous. The buying movement embraced all of the usual favorites and at times was heavily centered in various groups, particularly in the Pennsylvania group, The pronounced strength of the market brought out the usual crop of rumors regarding special stocks, particularly Norlolk and Western, which advanced over 6 points to 80 on reports of an increased divided. Much of the heavy buying throughout the list was credited to a operator who has recently returned to the street after an absence abroad.

After the first burst of enthusiasm over the favorable aspect of the cial strike situation, the street began to regard that incident as a secondary factor in the market and commenced to discount the expected easing up of the monetary situation, the street began to regard that incident as a secondary factor in the market and commenced to discount the expected easing up of the monetary situation through the rumored mond purchases by Secretary Shaw. Nothing definite regarding this developed through the day, but there were many circumstantial accounts touching the transaction. It was reported that the amount involved would be about $15,00,00, which would be tendered by a syndicate on satisfactory terms. Professional tradered were inclined to he

STOCK MARKET GOSSIP.

There were brighter faces in the Richmond brokerage offices yesterday than had been seen for a long time. Under the stimulating news that the strike had been practically ended the market opened strong, and traders were also encouraged to buy on the news that the Secretary of the Treasury would take further steps to telieve the money stringency.

Traders knew all along that the country was all right, and now with the strike ended and the promise of a reasonable money rate there is no reason why prices should not advance.

Traders took that view yesterday, and some of the buils of Wall Street went in and bought stocks freely. It is further reported that the Treasury Department has accepted $13,000,000 in State and municipal bonds as security for Government deposit, and that $8,000,000 had actually been placed in circulation on this account.

ment deposit, and that $8,000,000 had actually been placed in circulation on this account.

Money was loaned during the day at from 6 to 8 per cent, and seemed to be in plentiful supply at those figures. It is not believed, however that the banks are going to encourage any general speculation at this time.

In yesterday's trading Norfolk and Western was the leader, and sold up from 73 to 80. The upward movement was due to a rumor that the stock would be placed on a 4 per cent, basis. A well-informed broker in this city says that his information is to the contrary, but nevestheless, the rumor had its influence and the stock went up with a bound.

In sympathy with Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio enjoyed a substantial rise, selling above 33.

Looking at the market yesterday it was not hard for a trader to see how he might have made a fortune within the past few days by buying judiciously on Monday last. At that time Norfolk and Western was selling below 70. Chesapeake and Ohio below 49. Union Pacific around 101, and so on. Nearly all good stocks were from 2010 per cent, higher on yesterday than they were on Blue Monday. Atlantic Coast Line, however, was still full, and few sales were reported. Some teem to think that Coast Line, however, was still others think that it is a fine purchase around 170.

The market closed active and buoyant at about the best prices of the day.

COTTON MARKETS. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The cotton market opened steady with prices 294 points higher on demand from smaller room shorts and on some foreign purchases these buyers being influenced by the news of the coal strike settlement and the firmer ruling of the English market. Relatively light receipts at the ports and unfavorable news from Fall River in reference to the spot print cloths also exerted some influence. But it was soon apparent to all that the commission houses were almost destitute of buying orders and that the bear faction intended making a fresh attack upon the winter months, giving the excellent weather conditions as the prompting factor. The private crop reports also were more favorable than in some time, many indicating promise of maturement of late cotton. Light frost was given on the chart for the north central belt, the dispatches from that quarter stating no harm had been done to cotton, as the formation had been limited almost entirely to the higher ground where there were few fields. Prices worked quite steadily lower during the rest of the forenoon with liquidation quite active. Soon after mid-day January sank to 5.48 and May to 8.28, from which there vis a rally near the close on profit-taking by room shorts. Wall Street came to the front as a buyer of the January option in the last fifteen minutes, and European demand was something of a feature. The South soid along conservative lines.

The market was finally steady and net 104 points lower. Total sales were estimated at 250 009 baies. The firmness in the stock market appeared to be something of a factor in the late session, causing shorts to believe it meant immediate workin gof the mines.

NEW ORLEANS. Oct. 16.—COTTON—The market for spot cotton was decidedly wea kto-day and trading was done on the basis of 1-160 c. below board figures. The future market opened 162 points below yesterday's closing and immediately gained another point, but the complexion of advices from Liverpool, where the onlinon is generally held that unsess a killing frost develops in the cotton belt within the next ten days there will be a permanent decline, was too much for the market to hold up under, and values declined 45 points, while there was a perceptible diminution in trading for the long account. The market became dull and heavy, the close showing losses of 162 points on the several months.

THEODORE H. PRICE ON COTTON.

The reaction in the cotton market seems to have about spent its force to-day. It has been predicted entirely upon eports that in the absence of frost the development of the top crop would add substantially to the yield. Such reports are always current at this season, and they nearly always prove misleading, My advices do not lead me to expect much from the top crop, and my belief is an exceptionally short crop is fully confilmed. Receipts for the week, and especially for to-morrow, promise to be substantially under last year, and the movement of the crop is already commencing to indicate a shortage.

Exports up to last evening since September 1st are 1,022,022, against 653,844 for the corresponding period last year. Never in the history of the American cotton trade have exports reached so large a total thus early in the season. Holders of cotton have only to exercise patience to secure a very full price for

NEW WELLS.

The contractors, Messrs. Dabney & Webb, of Barboursvile, Ky., brought in on Tuesday, the 14th of October, the first of the ten new wells contracted for by the Richlands Oil Company on their leases on little Richlands Creek, Knox county, Ky.

This well proved to be a fine one, flowing a great stream of oil from the mouth of the well. It was promptly gotten under control and no oil of consequence lost.

der control and no oll of consequence lost.

The other nine wells of this contract will be drilled as fast as the machines will do the work.

We expect and have every reason to believe that by the first of December next we will be able to sell to the Standard O'll Company no less than two thousand dollars' worth of oll per day, but long before that time the present allotment of stock set aside to pay for these wells will have been sold.

Each new well increases our visible assets and makes our stock more valuable in proportion to the yield of the well, therefore the company finds it necessary to set a new valuation from time to time upon its stock.

For a few days longer this stock will be sold at 40 cents on the dollar so buy it now for a bargain. It will be selling at from $1.50 to $3.00 by 1st January, 1503.
